

GAS IS BLAMED FOR DEATHS ON SUBMARINE

Report Indicates That All Boats of the F Type Are Deadly.

One of the corpses taken from the hull of submarine F-4 has been identified as that of Gunners Mate G. T. Ashcroft, the Navy Department was notified today from Honolulu.

Startling admissions concerning the danger of chlorine gas asphyxiation of crews of submarine boats of the F type are contained in a report now made public by the Navy Department from a board which investigated the sinking of the F-4 at Honolulu.

That "a comparatively small amount of sea water can cause the liberation of sufficient chlorine gas to asphyxiate the crew of a submarine while in a submerged condition, and this condition obtains in all boats of the F class," is one of the many findings of the board. It is also revealed that the F-1 at one time filled with gas but there were no fatalities because the vessel was moved to the dock and the hatches were open.

Inquiry At Honolulu
The report concerns an inquiry made by a naval board at Honolulu immediately following the disaster, and concludes with the statement that "no conclusion at this time can be drawn as to the probable cause of the loss of the F-4, but it is strongly intimated throughout that the crew was asphyxiated."

The formal report on the F-4 is by a board, headed by Commander Sumner E. Kittelle, which took testimony of many witnesses at Honolulu. The department announces that a separate board has now been named, following the raising of the vessel, to seek further into the causes of the disaster.

The preliminary report, after ascertaining that the F-4 apparently, was seaworthy and stable, that she was regularly inspected, that her crew was capable and careful because of the defects of the vessel—and that "in general the condition of the F-4 compared favorably with the other three boats of this type," makes the following frank statements:

Batteries Were Good.
"That the storage batteries were in good condition within the limitations of design.

"That, further, the storage batteries were always in a state of being more or less electrically 'grounded,' due to the leakage of electrolyte, or by capillary action of the electrolyte or moisture and poor insulation, or bad electrical contact and that these said 'grounds' have been noted to be of sufficient intensity at times to cause flame and the fusing of electrical connections.

"That, further, this condition obtains in a less degree on all the boats of the F-class.

"That the covering over the storage batteries or the battery deck, in accordance with specifications for submarine torpedo boat No. 23 is to be 'practically gas tight and water tight,' which condition does not obtain, as this so-called

Convicts Give Gay Fete In Honor of Osborne

Bands, Banners, and Bouquets Feature Reception to Sing Sing Warden, Who Returns From Two Weeks' Vacation at Newport.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Thomas Mott Osborne returned from Bar Harbor and Newport to his post as warden of Sing Sing Prison, and the 1,800 convicts, in special costumes and headed by a band, gave a festival of welcome which began far outside the gate and which included everything from presenting the warden a bouquet of posies to displaying banners hailing him as the next governor of New York.

He had been gone two weeks. Far down the road toward the Ossining railroad station and outside the prison walls the prison band of thirty-two pieces, including several "lifer" bands, with the executive committee of the Mutual Welfare League and other favored souls, until the warden's automobile was in sight at something after 4.

There was no one with the warden except Dick Richards, his secretary, half a dozen movie men, a dozen photographers and a score of reporters.

Band Blares Welcome.
As soon as the cavalcade was within earshot the strains of "Hail to the Chief" blared forth from the band, while cheers arose from loyal throats.

The automobile containing the warden drew up abreast of the band. No sooner had it halted than one of the leaguers, an elaborate bouquet in his hand, leaped to the running board and handed the flowers to Osborne.

Slowly then, so as not to outstrip the band and the reception committee, the warden proceeded toward the gate. The band struck to its one significant tune, marching with a drum major dressed as Uncle Sam at the head.

Even from afar the gate was a thing of beauty. Red, white and blue bunting and American flags almost hid the rough gray stone of the building at the entrance, which is the warden's residence and the office quarters as well. Mingled with the red, white, and blue were the green and white streamers of the Mutual Welfare League.

Over the entrance the word "Welcome" worked in giant letters with paper flowers became legible as the procession neared. Entering a gigantic device on a green and white shield above the first gate beyond assailed the eye—"Welcome home, Tom Brown."

Under the name Tom Brown, Osborne served his experimental week as a prisoner in Auburn.

Deck Mass of Flowers.
In the office the warden's desk was a mass of flowers and Harvard pennants bedecked the walls.

Here, as elsewhere, was displayed for the first time the flag of the Mutual Welfare League. This banner has nine bars of alternate green and white, one for each of the letters in the name battery deck does permit water to seep into the batteries.

"That, further, the sea water has at times seeped into the cells of the storage batteries of the boats of the F-class, causing the evolution of chlorine gas, which gas is quickly destructive of life.

"That, further, a comparatively small amount of sea water can cause the liberation of sufficient chlorine gas to asphyxiate the crew of a submarine while in a submerged condition.

"That, further, this condition obtains in all boats of the F-class, and that in the submarine torpedo boat F-1, a small quantity of sea water seeped into three of the cells of the forward storage battery, damaging the cells and liberating quantities of chlorine gas. No fatalities or injuries to personnel followed, as the boat was moored to the dock and the hatches were open at the time."

The Navy Department received last night a cable from Honolulu reporting:

"Debris being removed from interior of F-4. Several bodies located, but not yet identified."

The department announces that the personnel of the board which will continue an investigation into the cause of the submarine disaster will be composed of Rear Admiral Clifford J. Bouch, commandant of the naval station; Naval Constructor J. A. Gurrer, and Lieut. K. B. Crittenden.

"T. M. Osborne," and, on a white field, three stars, one for each of the branches of the league, in Sing Sing, Auburn and the Connecticut State Reformatory at Cheshire.

Inside the walls, Osborne found a reviewing stand prepared for him, and as soon as he ascended it, a parade began.

First in line, of course, was the band, in fifty blue uniforms, headed still by "Uncle Sam." The fire department, in prison gray, was second and the hospital corps, in white, came third. The baseball team, in field uniforms, followed the hospital corps.

Then came one of the features of the whole procession, "Tom Brown's Knitting Class," as a banner proudly proclaimed. Members of this organization, which knitted knickerbockers for the Belgians, were dressed in caps, jackets, stockings and sweaters, which they had knitted with their own nimble fingers.

Followed the mat shop crew, the "outside" crew, which tends lawns and such without the walls, and then the crew from the knitting shop with a banner: "Harvard, '86-'15. Do Good; Make Good."

SLAIN BRITISH MAJOR LEFT HER MILLIONS

Mrs. Grace Fitch Conger, Who Broke Leg Tangoing, Keeps Hero's Name Secret.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 1.—Mrs. Grace Fitch Conger, who broke her leg tangoing in a Broadway restaurant, and who for several years started even that thoroughfare with her original gowns, has bobbed up here with a story that through the death of a British army major in the French trenches she is to obtain a fortune worth millions of dollars.

Mrs. Conger, who is a daughter of the late Colonel Henry S. Fitch, United States army, and a niece of the late Clyde Fitch, playwright, obtained a divorce on March 12, last, from Roy N. Conger, of the New York banking house of Higelow & Co. Mr. Conger is a son of the late J. H. Conger, formerly United States minister to China.

She is here recuperating from the shock she suffered soon after obtaining the divorce when she was informed that the British major had been killed in the trenches and that he had made her the principal legatee to his great fortune.

Keeps Identity Secret.
Mrs. Conger, who is only twenty-six, but has passed through Bellevue and been graduated from the Winter Garden productions of Broadway, is reticent about the identity of the army officer whose death bestows these riches upon her. She honors his memory too much even to mention his name.

Suffice it to say, however, that this handsome British major won her heart while she was over on her honeymoon trip around the world with Mr. Conger in 1908. Upon her return to this country she said she separated from Mr. Conger and ever since then had been trying to obtain a divorce so she could become the bride of the wealthy major.

Broke Leg Tangoing.
While seeking a divorce for seven years, she said, she had gone upon the stage. It was during these years that she caused such comment upon Broadway by her startling gowns, both on and off the stage, and that she broke a leg while making a fancy step in a

YOU CAN GET RID OF ITCHING
There is immediate relief for skins itching, burning, and disfigured by eczema, ringworm, or similar tormenting skin trouble. In a warm bath with Resinol Soap and a simple application of Resinol Ointment. The soothing, healing Resinol medication sinks right into the skin, stops itching instantly, and soon clears away all trace of eruption, even in severe and stubborn cases where other treatments have had no effect. After that, the regular use of Resinol Soap is usually enough to keep the skin clear and healthy.

You need never hesitate to use Resinol. It is a doctor's prescription that has been used by other physicians for years in the treatment of all sorts of skin affections. It contains absolutely nothing that could injure the tenderest skin. Ask your druggist for Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap. Samples free. Dept. 32-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.—Adv.

"My speech at Newport was distorted by the newspapers. It was made to seem that I cast reflections on the office force here. I want to say that I feel that I have behind me Principal Keefer Dornier and all the officers, and none of my remarks was intended to reflect on the body of officers here as a whole."

Johnson then spoke, commending the convicts on their behavior during the warden's absence. Father Cashin urged the men to do their best, because they are pioneers, with the eyes of the world focused on the experiment in Sing Sing.

"Debris being removed from interior of F-4. Several bodies located, but not yet identified."

The department announces that the personnel of the board which will continue an investigation into the cause of the submarine disaster will be composed of Rear Admiral Clifford J. Bouch, commandant of the naval station; Naval Constructor J. A. Gurrer, and Lieut. K. B. Crittenden.

"T. M. Osborne," and, on a white field, three stars, one for each of the branches of the league, in Sing Sing, Auburn and the Connecticut State Reformatory at Cheshire.

Inside the walls, Osborne found a reviewing stand prepared for him, and as soon as he ascended it, a parade began.

First in line, of course, was the band, in fifty blue uniforms, headed still by "Uncle Sam." The fire department, in prison gray, was second and the hospital corps, in white, came third. The baseball team, in field uniforms, followed the hospital corps.

Then came one of the features of the whole procession, "Tom Brown's Knitting Class," as a banner proudly proclaimed. Members of this organization, which knitted knickerbockers for the Belgians, were dressed in caps, jackets, stockings and sweaters, which they had knitted with their own nimble fingers.

Followed the mat shop crew, the "outside" crew, which tends lawns and such without the walls, and then the crew from the knitting shop with a banner: "Harvard, '86-'15. Do Good; Make Good."

"T. M. Osborne," and, on a white field, three stars, one for each of the branches of the league, in Sing Sing, Auburn and the Connecticut State Reformatory at Cheshire.

Inside the walls, Osborne found a reviewing stand prepared for him, and as soon as he ascended it, a parade began.

First in line, of course, was the band, in fifty blue uniforms, headed still by "Uncle Sam." The fire department, in prison gray, was second and the hospital corps, in white, came third. The baseball team, in field uniforms, followed the hospital corps.

Then came one of the features of the whole procession, "Tom Brown's Knitting Class," as a banner proudly proclaimed. Members of this organization, which knitted knickerbockers for the Belgians, were dressed in caps, jackets, stockings and sweaters, which they had knitted with their own nimble fingers.

Followed the mat shop crew, the "outside" crew, which tends lawns and such without the walls, and then the crew from the knitting shop with a banner: "Harvard, '86-'15. Do Good; Make Good."

"T. M. Osborne," and, on a white field, three stars, one for each of the branches of the league, in Sing Sing, Auburn and the Connecticut State Reformatory at Cheshire.

Inside the walls, Osborne found a reviewing stand prepared for him, and as soon as he ascended it, a parade began.

First in line, of course, was the band, in fifty blue uniforms, headed still by "Uncle Sam." The fire department, in prison gray, was second and the hospital corps, in white, came third. The baseball team, in field uniforms, followed the hospital corps.

Then came one of the features of the whole procession, "Tom Brown's Knitting Class," as a banner proudly proclaimed. Members of this organization, which knitted knickerbockers for the Belgians, were dressed in caps, jackets, stockings and sweaters, which they had knitted with their own nimble fingers.

SLAIN BRITISH MAJOR LEFT HER MILLIONS

Mrs. Grace Fitch Conger, Who Broke Leg Tangoing, Keeps Hero's Name Secret.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 1.—Mrs. Grace Fitch Conger, who broke her leg tangoing in a Broadway restaurant, and who for several years started even that thoroughfare with her original gowns, has bobbed up here with a story that through the death of a British army major in the French trenches she is to obtain a fortune worth millions of dollars.

Mrs. Conger, who is a daughter of the late Colonel Henry S. Fitch, United States army, and a niece of the late Clyde Fitch, playwright, obtained a divorce on March 12, last, from Roy N. Conger, of the New York banking house of Higelow & Co. Mr. Conger is a son of the late J. H. Conger, formerly United States minister to China.

She is here recuperating from the shock she suffered soon after obtaining the divorce when she was informed that the British major had been killed in the trenches and that he had made her the principal legatee to his great fortune.

Keeps Identity Secret.
Mrs. Conger, who is only twenty-six, but has passed through Bellevue and been graduated from the Winter Garden productions of Broadway, is reticent about the identity of the army officer whose death bestows these riches upon her. She honors his memory too much even to mention his name.

Suffice it to say, however, that this handsome British major won her heart while she was over on her honeymoon trip around the world with Mr. Conger in 1908. Upon her return to this country she said she separated from Mr. Conger and ever since then had been trying to obtain a divorce so she could become the bride of the wealthy major.

Broke Leg Tangoing.
While seeking a divorce for seven years, she said, she had gone upon the stage. It was during these years that she caused such comment upon Broadway by her startling gowns, both on and off the stage, and that she broke a leg while making a fancy step in a

YOU CAN GET RID OF ITCHING
There is immediate relief for skins itching, burning, and disfigured by eczema, ringworm, or similar tormenting skin trouble. In a warm bath with Resinol Soap and a simple application of Resinol Ointment. The soothing, healing Resinol medication sinks right into the skin, stops itching instantly, and soon clears away all trace of eruption, even in severe and stubborn cases where other treatments have had no effect. After that, the regular use of Resinol Soap is usually enough to keep the skin clear and healthy.

You need never hesitate to use Resinol. It is a doctor's prescription that has been used by other physicians for years in the treatment of all sorts of skin affections. It contains absolutely nothing that could injure the tenderest skin. Ask your druggist for Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap. Samples free. Dept. 32-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.—Adv.

"My speech at Newport was distorted by the newspapers. It was made to seem that I cast reflections on the office force here. I want to say that I feel that I have behind me Principal Keefer Dornier and all the officers, and none of my remarks was intended to reflect on the body of officers here as a whole."

Johnson then spoke, commending the convicts on their behavior during the warden's absence. Father Cashin urged the men to do their best, because they are pioneers, with the eyes of the world focused on the experiment in Sing Sing.

"Debris being removed from interior of F-4. Several bodies located, but not yet identified."

The department announces that the personnel of the board which will continue an investigation into the cause of the submarine disaster will be composed of Rear Admiral Clifford J. Bouch, commandant of the naval station; Naval Constructor J. A. Gurrer, and Lieut. K. B. Crittenden.

"T. M. Osborne," and, on a white field, three stars, one for each of the branches of the league, in Sing Sing, Auburn and the Connecticut State Reformatory at Cheshire.

Inside the walls, Osborne found a reviewing stand prepared for him, and as soon as he ascended it, a parade began.

First in line, of course, was the band, in fifty blue uniforms, headed still by "Uncle Sam." The fire department, in prison gray, was second and the hospital corps, in white, came third. The baseball team, in field uniforms, followed the hospital corps.

Then came one of the features of the whole procession, "Tom Brown's Knitting Class," as a banner proudly proclaimed. Members of this organization, which knitted knickerbockers for the Belgians, were dressed in caps, jackets, stockings and sweaters, which they had knitted with their own nimble fingers.

Followed the mat shop crew, the "outside" crew, which tends lawns and such without the walls, and then the crew from the knitting shop with a banner: "Harvard, '86-'15. Do Good; Make Good."

"T. M. Osborne," and, on a white field, three stars, one for each of the branches of the league, in Sing Sing, Auburn and the Connecticut State Reformatory at Cheshire.

Inside the walls, Osborne found a reviewing stand prepared for him, and as soon as he ascended it, a parade began.

First in line, of course, was the band, in fifty blue uniforms, headed still by "Uncle Sam." The fire department, in prison gray, was second and the hospital corps, in white, came third. The baseball team, in field uniforms, followed the hospital corps.

Then came one of the features of the whole procession, "Tom Brown's Knitting Class," as a banner proudly proclaimed. Members of this organization, which knitted knickerbockers for the Belgians, were dressed in caps, jackets, stockings and sweaters, which they had knitted with their own nimble fingers.

Followed the mat shop crew, the "outside" crew, which tends lawns and such without the walls, and then the crew from the knitting shop with a banner: "Harvard, '86-'15. Do Good; Make Good."

"T. M. Osborne," and, on a white field, three stars, one for each of the branches of the league, in Sing Sing, Auburn and the Connecticut State Reformatory at Cheshire.

Inside the walls, Osborne found a reviewing stand prepared for him, and as soon as he ascended it, a parade began.

First in line, of course, was the band, in fifty blue uniforms, headed still by "Uncle Sam." The fire department, in prison gray, was second and the hospital corps, in white, came third. The baseball team, in field uniforms, followed the hospital corps.

Then came one of the features of the whole procession, "Tom Brown's Knitting Class," as a banner proudly proclaimed. Members of this organization, which knitted knickerbockers for the Belgians, were dressed in caps, jackets, stockings and sweaters, which they had knitted with their own nimble fingers.

Broadway "Trottery." Only Last September she was found wandering "in a dazed condition" on the French line pier and was sent to Bellevue hospital.

Mr. Conger was her second husband. When only fifteen years old she was married to an English army officer in California. He died within a month. Her first divorce action against Mr. Conger was begun in Westchester county, but was dismissed for lack of evidence. Later she began the action in New York city and named a girl clerk in a Cortlandt street candy store. It was upon this evidence that the divorce was issued to her last March.

Holds Court in Boat.
ST. CLOUD, Sept. 1.—Judge John A. Roser has been holding his court in a boat. While listening to evidence from both sides of the case, aligned in separate boats on each side of the judge, he asked to hold court in a jail here, however, he balked.

Chaplain Henry A. Brown, attached to the First Battalion of Engineers at Washington Barracks, retires from the army today with the rank of lieutenant colonel. He retires on his own application, having served on the Panama canal.

Father Succeeds Son As Silver Spring Postmaster
President Wilson has named Oliver B. Clark, as postmaster at Silver Spring, Md., to succeed the latter's son, Oliver B. Clark, Jr., who was recently removed from office on appointment.

Chaplain Brown is a graduate of Oberlin, and served as chaplain in the Rough Riders in the Spanish war.

General Burleson at the instance of Senator Blair Lee, of Maryland, who resides at Silver Spring.

Chaplain Brown is a graduate of Oberlin, and served as chaplain in the Rough Riders in the Spanish war.

General Burleson at the instance of Senator Blair Lee, of Maryland, who resides at Silver Spring.

Chaplain Brown is a graduate of Oberlin, and served as chaplain in the Rough Riders in the Spanish war.

General Burleson at the instance of Senator Blair Lee, of Maryland, who resides at Silver Spring.

Chaplain Brown is a graduate of Oberlin, and served as chaplain in the Rough Riders in the Spanish war.

General Burleson at the instance of Senator Blair Lee, of Maryland, who resides at Silver Spring.

Chaplain Brown is a graduate of Oberlin, and served as chaplain in the Rough Riders in the Spanish war.

General Burleson at the instance of Senator Blair Lee, of Maryland, who resides at Silver Spring.

Chaplain Brown is a graduate of Oberlin, and served as chaplain in the Rough Riders in the Spanish war.

General Burleson at the instance of Senator Blair Lee, of Maryland, who resides at Silver Spring.

Chaplain Brown is a graduate of Oberlin, and served as chaplain in the Rough Riders in the Spanish war.

General Burleson at the instance of Senator Blair Lee, of Maryland, who resides at Silver Spring.

Chaplain Brown is a graduate of Oberlin, and served as chaplain in the Rough Riders in the Spanish war.

General Burleson at the instance of Senator Blair Lee, of Maryland, who resides at Silver Spring.

Chaplain Brown is a graduate of Oberlin, and served as chaplain in the Rough Riders in the Spanish war.

General Burleson at the instance of Senator Blair Lee, of Maryland, who resides at Silver Spring.

Chaplain Brown is a graduate of Oberlin, and served as chaplain in the Rough Riders in the Spanish war.

General Burleson at the instance of Senator Blair Lee, of Maryland, who resides at Silver Spring.

Chaplain Brown is a graduate of Oberlin, and served as chaplain in the Rough Riders in the Spanish war.

General Burleson at the instance of Senator Blair Lee, of Maryland, who resides at Silver Spring.

Chaplain Brown is a graduate of Oberlin, and served as chaplain in the Rough Riders in the Spanish war.

General Burleson at the instance of Senator Blair Lee, of Maryland, who resides at Silver Spring.

Chaplain Brown is a graduate of Oberlin, and served as chaplain in the Rough Riders in the Spanish war.

General Burleson at the instance of Senator Blair Lee, of Maryland, who resides at Silver Spring.

Rough Rider Chaplain Will Be Retired Today

Chaplain Henry A. Brown, attached to the First Battalion of Engineers at Washington Barracks, retires from the army today with the rank of lieutenant colonel. He retires on his own application, having served on the Panama canal.

Chaplain Brown is a graduate of Oberlin, and served as chaplain in the Rough Riders in the Spanish war.

General Burleson at the instance of Senator Blair Lee, of Maryland, who resides at Silver Spring.

Chaplain Brown is a graduate of Oberlin, and served as chaplain in the Rough Riders in the Spanish war.

General Burleson at the instance of Senator Blair Lee, of Maryland, who resides at Silver Spring.

Chaplain Brown is a graduate of Oberlin, and served as chaplain in the Rough Riders in the Spanish war.

General Burleson at the instance of Senator Blair Lee, of Maryland, who resides at Silver Spring.

Chaplain Brown is a graduate of Oberlin, and served as chaplain in the Rough Riders in the Spanish war.

General Burleson at the instance of Senator Blair Lee, of Maryland, who resides at Silver Spring.

Chaplain Brown is a graduate of Oberlin, and served as chaplain in the Rough Riders in the Spanish war.

General Burleson at the instance of Senator Blair Lee, of Maryland, who resides at Silver Spring.

Chaplain Brown is a graduate of Oberlin, and served as chaplain in the Rough Riders in the Spanish war.

General Burleson at the instance of Senator Blair Lee, of Maryland, who resides at Silver Spring.

Chaplain Brown is a graduate of Oberlin, and served as chaplain in the Rough Riders in the Spanish war.

General Burleson at the instance of Senator Blair Lee, of Maryland, who resides at Silver Spring.

Chaplain Brown is a graduate of Oberlin, and served as chaplain in the Rough Riders in the Spanish war.

General Burleson at the instance of Senator Blair Lee, of Maryland, who resides at Silver Spring.

Chaplain Brown is a graduate of Oberlin, and served as chaplain in the Rough Riders in the Spanish war.

General Burleson at the instance of Senator Blair Lee, of Maryland, who resides at Silver Spring.

Chaplain Brown is a graduate of Oberlin, and served as chaplain in the Rough Riders in the Spanish war.

General Burleson at the instance of Senator Blair Lee, of Maryland, who resides at Silver Spring.

Chaplain Brown is a graduate of Oberlin, and served as chaplain in the Rough Riders in the Spanish war.

General Burleson at the instance of Senator Blair Lee, of Maryland, who resides at Silver Spring.

Chaplain Brown is a graduate of Oberlin, and served as chaplain in the Rough Riders in the Spanish war.

General Burleson at the instance of Senator Blair Lee, of Maryland, who resides at Silver Spring.

Chaplain Brown is a graduate of Oberlin, and served as chaplain in the Rough Riders in the Spanish war.

General Burleson at the instance of Senator Blair Lee, of Maryland, who resides at Silver Spring.

Chaplain Brown is a graduate of Oberlin, and served as chaplain in the Rough Riders in the Spanish war.

General Burleson at the instance of Senator Blair Lee, of Maryland, who resides at Silver Spring.

Chaplain Brown is a graduate of Oberlin, and served as chaplain in the Rough Riders in the Spanish war.

It's Easy to Peel Off Your Tan or Freckles

This is what you should do to shed a speckled complexion: Spread evenly over the face, covering every inch of skin, a thin layer of ordinary mercolized wax. Let this stay on over night; wash it off next morning. Repeat daily until your complexion is as clear, soft and beautiful as a young girl's. This result is inevitable, no matter how soiled or discolored the complexion. The wax literally peels off the flimsy surface skin, exposing the lovely young skin beneath. The process is entirely harmless, so little of the old skin coming off at a time. Mercolized wax is obtainable at any drug store; one